NORWAY, ME., Sept. 5, 1919.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere and heartfelt thanks to all those who have assisted us in our recent illness, and for the many loving and kind words and letters received from all.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

John Kiffin returned from Fort Williams, Me., where he has been on duty since his return from the war.

There will be a meeting of Harry Rust W. Rust, Thursday evening, Sept. 4, at Woodman Hall at 8 o'clock.

Boys wanted to sell some cards apply to E. C. Thompson, 42 Beal street, Norway.

Lawrence H. Denison of Providence, R. I., who has been visiting relatives in town returned Monday with his uncle, N. N. Denison.

Orville H. Denison, wife and son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Denison, returned from their recent trip to Norway.

After fourteen years of absence, Simon Frost, wife and daughter spent two weeks with friends and relatives in Norway and vicinity recently.

Wm. A. Frost of Auburn spent the week and with his mother, Mrs. Fannie Frost, recently.

Among the relatives who called on Simon Frost during his visit at his brother's, James Frost's, on the Waterford road, were Mrs. Fannie Frost and sons, Winslow and Clifford, where they spent the week.

Winfield Sloan has a pumpkin vine that has gone dumpy. Nature has worked with crossed wires and produced six feet of freaky ideas in a vegetable product, strange to any authority who has seen the "cutter".

It resembles 3 or more vine blend, flattened its whole length and spread fan shape at the terminal. Twelve unfertilized blossoms and twenty more immature buds are carried along with leaves which occur in irregular groups of three and frequently more.

At the end is a mass of undeveloped buds, leaves and stem material most resembling a bunch of moss. This strange twist in nature will be on exhibition in the hall during county fair.

Lester Witham is gaining from his recent illness and able to get out when the weather is suitable.

During the rain storm Wednesday Dr. Chase L. Fogg remarked, "Guess the weather clerk has forgotten the state fair dates have been changed. Usual weather for that show the past few days."

Arthur and Ernest Descoeaux have returned to Camp Wigwam where they have been employed during the summer. Both are taking a short vacation at Peaks Island.

George Dave has finished working at E. M. Jones' clothing shop for the season and is home in South Paris.

Francis Hassan, who has a position at Washington, D. C., is spending her vacation with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anderson.

"Open Your Eyes," the sensational photograph of love betrayed prepared under supervision of the United States Public Health Service, is on display at the State Fair, Sept. 12 and 13.

"Open Your Eyes" is the story of a girl, both young and beautiful, but budding into young womanhood, who is being misled by a man who is not what he seems.

Her questions are answered, and she is able to avoid the life in the pathway of youth.

More fortunate, finds her mother with social duties to listen to after her questions and when the story turns to companions of her knowledge, she gets it at a from a handsome rake. The between the careers of the two protected and shielded from the other's questions and when the story turns to companions of her knowledge, she gets it at a from a handsome rake.

THIRD RED CROSS ROLL CALL, NOVEMBER, 3-11, 1919

The American Red Cross will make a nation-wide appeal for members and money during the 10 days from Monday, November 3, through Tuesday, November 11, Armistice Day. This will be the only Red Cross campaign this year. It will be known as the Third Red Cross Roll Call. The primary object of the campaign will be to enroll members for 1920. There will also be a general appeal for a fund of $15,000,000 to enable the organization to complete its important war obligations at home and abroad. It has already been necessary, because of lack of funds, to curtail seriously the after-war work overseas. Besides the general appeal there will be local appeals, where necessary, conducted by the Red Cross Chapters to secure funds for carrying out the permanent program.

The National quota of $15,000,000 is far less than the amount asked for in the two War Fund campaigns of 1917 and 1918—$100,000,000 each, both of which were far over-subscribed by the people of this country, approximately 20,000,000 of whom also joined the Red Cross during the Christmas Roll Call.

Unless great and unforeseen emergencies arise there will in the future be only an annual Roll Call in which the Red Cross will seek the re-affirmed allegiance of the American people expressed in dollar memberships, and the money so derived will be used for American purposes. The tremendous task of the American Red Cross in the war has left a continuing obligation which cannot be fulfilled for some months to come. In an amendment to the Army Bill, Congress has placed the responsibility of the Red Cross abroad by authorizing Secretary of War Baker to transfer to the Red Cross such medical and surgical supplies and supplementary and dietary foodstuffs now in Europe as are not needed by the Army abroad or at home to be used by the American Red Cross to relieve and supply the pressing needs of the countries involved in the late war.

Inventories of these supplies are being made. To them will be added such material as the American Red Cross itself has in Europe and these will be distributed in the countries where the organization is conducting its war relief program and where, because of the ravages of war, famine and epidemic, the distress is most pronounced, as in the Balkans, Poland and other Eastern European countries. To meet these obligations and administer this foreign relief the Red Cross must raise a fund of $15,000,000.

The Red Cross authorities realize that the astonishing generosity of the American people during the war and the present high cost of living at home might legitimately lead many to expect a release from further demands for assistance to other peoples, but we must remember that our Allies were much harder hit by the war than we were and that we have incurred obligations to them which honor demands shall be discharged. In raising the sum of $15,000,000 the Red Cross has tried to determine the smallest amount which will enable it to round out its work and make effective the appropriation of Army goods rather than to estimate the generosity of the American people.

It is believed that the end of our foreign obligations are in sight and accordingly, the Red Cross is turning its chief attention and energy to the development of a clearly defined home program, which already includes systematic preparation for Disaster Relief, a widespread Nursing Plan, continuing Home Service operations, First Aid instruction, and a Junior Red Cross program, all of which will depend for their success upon large and vigorous Chapters. For these reasons the enrollment of members is the chief purpose of the November campaign. It is the primary ambition of the American Red Cross to be of service to Americans.

CATERPILLARS AGAIN EAT MAINE BEANS

After a Recess of Eleven Years. In 1908, a green caterpillar with the looping gait common to measuring worms, was troublesome over the greater part of the State, in many localities stripping the bean vines bare of foliage and pods. Since that time little or no damage has been charged to this insect until recent years when specimens were received from the vicinity of Portland together with a report which would seem to indicate that the striped green bean caterpillar is preparing to enjoy another mess of Maine beans.

If bean growers, therefore, prefer to harvest their crops themselves it would be well to examine the vines in order to find out whether such plans are being forestalled by slender, hairless, green caterpillars, pale with darker longitudinal stripes, measuring when full fed a little more than an inch in length. They hop along as they walk and, at the slightest touch of the vines, give series of violent jerks which land them on the ground. Their contortions are laughable even when their depredations are serious. The habit of jerking off from the plant would seem to make killing them on the ground practical, or in garden to which hens have access, merely shaking to which would prove a sufficient remedy. When about upon shell beans, the caterpillars may be destroyed by spraying with arsenate of lead (paste) 5 pounds to 100 gallons of water. On snap beans tobacco dust is sometimes recommended to drive them from the vines.

When full caterpillar growth is attained, the larva enters the soil to pupate, the pupa being pale yellowish brown and a bit less than 1-2 inch long. The moth emerging from the pupal case is light brown with an expanse of about an inch. The moths are on the wing for about four months during the summer and early fall.

GOOD ROADS

Why should I vote "yes" on amendment No. 5? Because I want all Maine to have good roads. Why do I want good roads? Because they will develop the entire state. How will they develop Maine? Because they will enable me to move my tonnage more quickly, and 60 per cent. cheaper. This is as true of the farmer as it is of the business man. Why do we need amendment No. 5? Its adoption will enable the State of Maine to match the United States Highway fund of $2,400,000 giving this State without a cent to our highway work is why we should vote "yes" on Amendment 5. Why will it not increase my tax? Because Uncle Sam pays $2,400,000 and the man who owns the auto pays the balance. See ad.

OXFORD COUNTY RELIGIOUS SURVEY

Part of Worldwide Enterprise
A general survey of the religious conditions and needs of Oxford county, as part of the world-wide surveys being made by the Interchurch World Movement of North America is now under way.

Practically all Protestant bodies, including the two 'Y's and the Salvation Army are cooperating throughout the United States and Canada. The survey is being made by competent investigators who are satisfactory to all churches. The object is to obtain an impartial and complete summary of all the facts relating to the condition of every church in the county as to its finances, its membership, whether growing, stationary, or declining, whether it has a resident pastor, what families are included in its ministry, what families in the county are without pastoral oversight, etc.

The surveyors are also expected to report upon church groupings, upon conflicts in parish boundaries, upon areas without Christian influence, upon community centers or social buildings, such as lodges and granges, and upon any other matters that will throw light on the problems of the church in the county. The county council will be expected to assemble this information. It will then be sent on for tabulation to the State Council, but, in the meantime, the facts will be laid before all the leaders in all the denominations of the county who will be invited to attend conferences where local programs to fit the ascertained facts will be worked out by common agreement.

What is being done in this country is being repeated in every one of the 3000 rural counties of the United States. Similar studies of religious conditions abroad are being made through the missionaries in the field, through governmental forces, through private agencies and through the headquarters of the great American missionary societies. In the course of time the Interchurch World Movement expects to have on file a map of every county in the United States which will show every railroad, trolley line, road, village, hamlet, church, lodge, school and where every isolated family house stands in relation to some church or other religious center.

The Interchurch World Movement is a cooperative effort of the missionary boards, church extension societies, and similar benevolent agencies of all the Evangelical churches to work out a unified Christian program. It is not a movement for organic church union. On the contrary, it expects each denominational society to preserve its own identity and work with its own money through its own machinery. The idea is to make a systematic and complete study of everything that is to be done and to have all the constituent bodies get together and agree upon which part of the work each is to undertake.

The movement originated last fall with certain members of the Foreign Missionary Board of the Presbyterian church, South. Acting upon a suggestion from these men, 135 representatives of various missionary societies of many denominations met in New York city in December. This conference decided that something of the kind could be done and appointed a committee of 20 leaders in various churches to work out a plan.

The committee of 20 worked out a system of cooperation it thought would be satisfactory. To consider it, a general conference was called at Cleveland, O., in May. This conference was attended by 500 delegates representing 200 different religious agencies. It amplified and approved the plan and from that moment, the Interchurch World Movement was an accomplished fact.

The home surveys may be divided roughly into two parts—rural surveys and city surveys. In addition there are surveys of special problems, such as the immigrant question, the foreign-language colony, work among negroes, work among isolated people, such as those of the mountain countries, etc.

For convenience, the United States has been divided into ten geographical groups each with a regional director. For each state, a council, consisting of representatives from the various denominations and of all the other interests involved, is formed. This council sits in an advisory capacity for the county councils.

After the county surveyors have completed their work and forwarded the results to the state council, that body will make-up a complete report and analysis for the entire state. This in turn will be forwarded to the National organization for final analysis, after which it will be possible to get at the salient points of information for any locality in the United States that may be desired, and at the same time, to study the general phenomena of particular groups and environment. The Interchurch World Movement is the first organization to undertake such a task on such a large scale.

The Supervisor of Rural Surveys in Maine is Rev. J. H. Thompson, with headquarters at Waterville. In July at Auburn, Mr. Thompson met with workers from many counties in preparation for the actual work. Oxford representatives present were Revs. H. A. Markley, Clarence Emery and W. H. Jackson, and these men have been at work in the region above Bethel and on the eastern border from Mexico to Oxford. Several other workers are being sought to help complete the work.

METRIC WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

Thinking men and women will do well to consider the striking arguments brought out by the World Trade Club of San Francisco in their campaign for adoption of the units of the metric system of weights and measures.

They show a striking anomaly: That the metric system was invented by a Briton, James Watt, in 1789, and yet all civilized nations have adopted it exclusively, excepting the United States and Great Britain.

That the so-called "British System" of weights and measures is of German origin—a relic of the old German Hanseatic trade league—and yet Germany scrapped it in 1871 and adopted the metric system, invented by a Briton.

People of Britannia and America may well ask themselves whether they are not carrying conservatism too far. The metric system is no untried theory. Its principle—the principle of decimal computation—has been used in the monetary system of the United States since 1793. If the United States had decided Thomas Jefferson, we should also have adopted this system of weights and measures based on decimals—so simple a system that a child can learn its main features in ten minutes. We know how well it works with money. It will work equally well with weights and measures.

The World Trade Club has started the ball rolling. What we all need is to look the subject up.

Services will be resumed at the Con- gregational Church Sunday morning. Sun- day school as usual and it is desired that all make an effort to attend this first session. Regular service in the evening, Christian Endeavor will not be held until October and the Juniors have no services this month.

The remains of Lewis M. Rawson of Presque Isle were received at Spiller's Undertaking Rooms Wednesday from the Fairfield Sanatorium where he died on Sept. 2. He was born in Paris twenty- one years ago, son of Hiram Rawson late of Paris Hill. Tubercular trouble ap- peared after pneumonia, following in- fluenza last October and he was sent to Fairfield hospital for treatment. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary Rawson, a brother, Merton Rawson, of Hebron. Rev. F. A. Sullivan conducted services at the undertaking room Thurs- day at 1 p. m. Burial in the Rawson Cemetery, Paris Hill.

Services at the Universalist Church will be resumed next Sunday, Sept. 7, after the summer vacation. Sunday school will be held at 1:45 p. m. and preaching services at 3:00.

Henry Russell and Oliver H. Merrill of Noble's Corner are working for L. L. Mason of South Paris who is making ex- tensive changes in his residence. Mr. Russell and Arthur Herrick, Noble's Cor- ner, are working on the George Dunn shing, corner Main and Whitman street.

Hobart Ames of New Jersey, recently discharged from the service, is visiting relatives and friends in town.

A house-party at Evergreen cottage over the week-end and Labor Day in- cluded Mr. and Mrs. Percy H. Nor- way and four children, Mildred Morgan, Mar- tin King, Kenneth Sloan, William White, of Norway, and Helen Burroughs of Haverhill, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chick and two sons, Howard and Fran- cis, were dinner guests, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Evans who have been in Bangor during the summer, were recent guests of Mr. Evans' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Evans. They were in town Saturday for Strong, where Mr. Evans is to teach.

Mrs. Nellie Goldthwaite of Lynn, Mass., and Mrs. Perley Lake of Swamp- scott, Mass., have been the guests of two weeks of Mrs. Bertram Goldthwaite, Green street, returning home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Whitman a: two children of Salem, Mass., who have been spending the summer at Mrs. George Whitman, Alpine street, and sister Mrs. Bertha Storaasli, for a few days.

Mrs. Chester Buck and daughter of West Paris were guests for the day, Friday of Mildred I. Curtis.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellwell of Cum- berland Mills were guests over the week- end and Labor Day of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene L. Hutchins at the Falls.

Robert Keane of Farmington, Mass., is a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adna A. Keane at the home of Fred Lovejoy.

Timothy Aldren, who has been a guest for a week at the home of Fred Love- joy, has returned to his home in Lynn, Mass.

Dr. and Mrs. A. Leon Sikkenga of Kalamazoo, Mich., arrived in town Wed- nesday. Dr. Sikkenga is an osteopathic physician and is located at Mrs. Gertrude Barker's on Main street where he will practice osteopathy.

Some 200 people attended the Masonic field day at the Barker farm, Monday.

The general invitation included all Mc- sons and their families. It is needless to state the party was a jolly one and ready for anything. Baseball, pitching horse shoes and other sports offered an opportunity to limber up stiff muscles and cracking joints while the ladies pas- sed the time socially on the veranda.

Baked beans, home made and brown in- ground, hot coffee and a varied menu was served. Rain cut short the gather- ing sooner than would have been the case if clear, warm conditions prevailed.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ford of Auburn and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellwell of town, guests at the Masonic picnic, Mon- day.

Henry B. Foster has bought all stock and interest owned by John W. Wood in the Norway Shoe Co. The transfer was decided about a week ago. Mr. Wood is joined the firm some two years and a half ago and has been instrumental in bring- ing the business to its present high state.

BETHEL

An Oxford County Artist

It was with feelings of local pride and keen appreciation of the musical genius displayed that the citizens of Bethel paid homage to Helen Yorke, the gifted daughter of the Oxford County town, whose glorious voice was heard in a concert there recently. This young lady, whose rare vocal gift has been trained under the guidance of some of the best instructors of musical art abroad, is now in the fullness of musical development, and it is a matter of universal pleasure in her home commu- nity that all the early promises have been so splendidly realized.

The glorious voice, the marvel of the training, would anywhere compel admira- tion. Allied to the irresistible magnet- ism of her personality it was infinitely more than that, and gives her a stage presence rarely equalled for charm and appeal.

Four years and a half of courageous, unremitting work under the great Se- verus results a voice of very unusual quality and range. And have left un- studied, indescribable grace of gesture, the pleasure of whose rare vocal gift has been trained under the guidance of some of the best instructors of musical art abroad, is now in the fullness of musical development, and it is a matter of universal pleasure in her home commu- nity that all the early promises have been so splendidly realized.

The artistically arranged program showed her wide versatility. Each num- ber evinced sincerity of interpretation and made its own peculiar appeal. Her audience fairly held its breath with won- der at the high bird-like notes of Villan- ca, beautiful and clear.

In the group of Neapolitan songs she catches all the life, the abandon, the haunting vibrant quality of the Italian voice. She does not imitate. She is, in pose, in gesture, in evanescent vivaci- ty and, patios of mood, the Neapolitan power enable her to identify herself with a part.

Bethel may well be proud of being the birthplace of Helen Yorke. If her splen- did career is fulfilled it will be prouder yet and will delight to recall that it was here she made her first appearance, be- fore the public, when at the age of three- fore the public, when at the age of three- fore the public, when at the age of three-

Stuart, Maine has sent out two great prima donnas. Those who heard Miss Yorke on Thursday night believe it is to have a third.

Anita's Trail

On Friday evening, Aug. 29 a large audience gathered at Odeon Hall, Bethel, to witness the three act comedy given by the Girls' Club of Bethel, and enjoy dancing which followed. The little play, "Anita's Trail" was a success, and the enthusiastic appreciation fully repaid the young ladies for the hard work they did under the coaching of B. G. Anderson of South Paris, formerly of Jefferson and the Cape Theatres.

"Anita," an Italian valet was played by Gladys Jenner, who had been well- known for that character, gave evidence that hard work and thought had been given the part.

The character of Mrs. Decon Peppin, with an eye for business was nicely handled by Dianthe Richardson, who had been going most of the time. Lurella, regressed by Gladys Jenner, for the young ladies for the hard work they did under the coaching of B. G. Anderson of South Paris, formerly of Jefferson and the Cape Theatres.

Instructive Address

Mrs. Althea G. Quimby, the W. C. T. U. State President gave us a very interesting and instructive address Sunday evening. She talked of what the W. C. T. U. stood for and had done, of its work during the great war, of Anna Howard Shaw's invaluable assistance in our country's plans, of the peace measures and the present and future reconstruction work that is of great importance and must be done to save our country and all the world.

Special music by a young people's chorus, a beautiful solo by Alice Barden and two selections by a chorus of a dozen voices of the Finnish people in their native tongue. Rev. Alex. Raita, the Finnish Congregationalist pastor, led the chorus, which was very sweet and enjoyable.

Gertrude Robbins is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Bert Day.

Work in the corn shop opened Tuesday morning.

Rev. H. A. Markley has returned from his month's vacation. There was no morning service at the Federation church last Sunday morning, so there was a general turnout at the Universalist church. Rev. Markley's theme was "Working together." "Together" is a slogan for these times and it is a well put word for all to heed whether religious or governmental. We might all do well to take heed of the old saying, (call it motto or slogan or whatever you please, it all means the same), of our colonial forefathers, who declared that "United we stand, divided we fall."

Mrs. L. G. Emery and two children of Crystal, N. H., are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kesseli and baby of Portland have moved into the third story rent of Henry Heikkanen.

Mrs. Lena S. Horrick went to Berlin, N. H., last Saturday to visit her aunt, Mrs. A. K. Cole, on her way to her school in North Charlestown, N. H.

Clara Berry went to her school in Mattawamkeag, Monday, also Grace Brock to Mexico.

Mrs. W. H. Emery has returned from a week's visit to her aunt, Mrs. Ward Bryant in Lowell, Mass.

Annette L. Austin visited her aunt, Mrs. S. T. White a day or two first of the week.

Rev. H. H. Hathaway will be here from his vacation and preach as usual for the Federation churches at the Baptist church next Sunday. The midweek prayer meetings have been kept up during his three weeks' absence. Ethel Brock has been the leader each time. The Sunday school also has been kept in session.

Grange Notes

Much local interest is being shown in the approaching grange fair on Friday, Sept. 26. This is a new venture for the grange, but with nearly the entire membership at work with characteristic energy, success is assured.

An all day session of the grange will be held Sept. 13, at which each committee will report and plans for the exhibit in the lower hall be perfected.

Besides the usual exhibits for which premium ribbons or cards will be awarded a special feature will be the nature study collections. This department will be headed by the valuable exhibit of Frank Dudley, State Horticultural, who will be present and ready to give any information in his line. It is hoped to arrange for a fine collection of birds such as seldom seen outside a museum. Collections of birds' nests, butterflies and moths, grains and "grasses" will be exhibited by local nature students and other like collections will be welcomed.

Surprise Party

Thursday evening, Aug. 28, twenty friends of Fred Deshon gave him a surprise party in honor of his birthday. Laid out the evening one of Mr. Deshon's friends called to tell him that his pig was out of its pen. While he was gone to repair the damage the guests gathered at his home. When Mr. Deshon returned he was greatly surprised to find "the boys" had taken possession of his house.

What was enjoyed during the evening. Walter Gordon, who has complimentary remarks on the youthful appearance of the host presented him with a fine shaving set and other gifts. Mrs. Deshon evidently was not so much surprised as her husband for she with a corps of lady assistants served ice cream and cake. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Lesmore Carrier, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Lovejoy, Ned I. Swan, Lester Bryant, Dr. Willard, Lester Heath, Walter Gordon, Alden Chase, Fred Cole, Roy Wheeler and Homer Crooker.

The last of the dances given by the W. A. C. was held Saturday evening in the Opera House.

Saturday afternoon the W. A. C. base ball team had no difficulty in defeating the Andover club by the score of 11 to 3. Because of rain the game was called in the sixth inning. Monday the club went to Norway, where they defeated the Tigers of Ward 8 3 to 1 in a very clean and fast game. As this was the third game between the two teams each team having previously won one game, a large delegation went down with the team. Next Saturday the team will go to Buckfield for a return game with the strong team there.

The play presented by the Alumni of Woodstock High, Tuesday evening, was well attended.

HARKEN BACK ON THE PAST

Twenty-four Years Ago This Week
L. P. Swett of Norway won the half-mile bicycle "professional" race at the State Fair, Wednesday in 1.12; A. J. Dyer, Lewiston second; J. L. Parks, Portland third. Lorraine won 1.20 cash.
Don C. Seitz of the New York World was in town this week. He is now in charge of the advertising department.
State Fair was well patronized by South Paris people, 118 tickets being sold from the station.

The Norway Coon Club composed of Fred H. Cummings, Henry B. Foster, Frank Faunce, Harry Millett, Will Libby and his dog, Bouncer held a meeting in Millettville at the John Henry Millett corn field. Another gathering followed a few evenings later, an addition to the party included Jonathan Millett, Lee Smith, Clarence Pike, Frank H. Noyes, L. B. Andrews and Al Blaisdell. A coon was cooked by Mrs. Faunce and daughters, Helen and Grace, with many other eatables. Toastmaster, Henry Foster kept matters going.

Car No. 3 was given a trial trip on the electric road Sunday, Supt., Frank Lee handled the power and Eugene Rowe was conductor. The seats are upholstered in plush and it rides like a pulman.

Proof that Some Women do Avoid Operations

Mrs. Etta Dorion, of Ogdensburg, Wis., says:
"I suffered from female troubles which caused piercing pains like a knife through my back and side. I finally lost all my strength so I had to go to bed. The doctor advised an operation but I would not listen to it. I thought of what I had read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and tried it. The first bottle brought great relief and six bottles have entirely cured me. All women who have female trouble of any kind should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

How Mrs. Boyd Avoided an Operation.

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well.
"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them." MRS. MARIE BOYD, 1421 6th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO.

INSTANTLY

The men who get things done are likely to be the men who do them at once. "I must take time for thought," says one of the elder statesmen. "I must bring to bear on this grave problem the wisdom of many minds. I cannot afford the costly luxury of a mistake."

Such grave deliberation sounds praiseworthy; and frequently it results in an extended description of the excellent reasons why the business is advanced, instead of cautiously peering under all the hedgerows lest lions might be ambushed there.

Procrastination is not merely a thief of time but a foe to civilization.

In countries of the siesta and the manana there is wanting the initiative of brisk endeavor one finds in the northern temperate climes.

There faces you on the calendar a disagreeable duty. There lies on your desk an uncomfortable letter awaiting a response. Take the dilemma by both horns on the spot. It's like going to the dentist you need the tooth out—the sooner you meet the ordeal the sooner it's over. And the courage of resolution is half of the battle.

"The worst things," said Eckley Cox, "were those that never happened to me."

Go to meet the redoubtable adversary—and as you draw near, lo, the apparition turns to the dissolving vapor of a fear.

If you do now what there is to do, you have no longer hanging "heavy, heavy" over your head; the apprehension itself, as well as the object of that apprehension.

Some of us revolve a nervous worry as though we enjoyed it and made a disconsolate as Ireland would be if she were without a grievance.

Look at the efficient men of affairs (not just the moneyed men, not just the magnates of the vested interests, but the men who are prime movers in every sort of going concern, be it little or large), and you find they are men who reason dispassionately, and act on those decisions promptly.

A young lad has learned much in relation to the world he lives in when he has learned to obey at once.

Obeyed at best, and sometimes the delay amounts to a fatal disobedience.

Soldiers cannot march into battle when they please, if they are to hope for victory. They must respond to the instant's quick imperative.

TEACHERS AND BIRD STUDY
"Any small bird is a sparrow to young children." This is what I was told recently by a friend, a teacher and something of a naturalist. Although she illustrated her point most forcibly, I refused to believe it and determined to investigate for myself.

Accordingly I tried out this plan on fifteen; I took them from five where we saw many sparrows, robins and bluebirds all could name the sparrows, two failed on the robin and one girl of fifteen had never seen a bluebird.

You may say that I selected a lot of dull children, but this was not the case. They were normally intelligent, as their school records showed. They asserted—never here is the point—that they had never been taught in school to distinguish the birds. I discovered, however, that they recognized pictures of birds, but could not identify them in their native haunts.

This little reveals a defect in our system. The children are taught nature from books if they are taught at all. What a dull and aimless method! At all results! Why teach children about birds from a book when the whole world is a living bird book?

With life and real human interest? Because of cruelty to dumb animals by breed and every form of love between the child and every form of animal life.

Teachers of English especially would do well by requiring a general knowledge of the common birds and what would require the children to know keenly and express themselves accurately. Few could be held during the year, a few field days, when the year of a competent teacher, under the guidance of the living birds, would be a revelation to most of the children. The joy of observation in nature study should stimulate them to greater effort, in nature study on their own initiative.

KIDNEYS WEAKENING?

LOU

Kidney troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow slowly but steadily, undermining health with their insidiousness, until you feel a violent pain in the back, or a sharp ache in the side, or a burning in the bladder. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trust a future suffering from kidney trouble. Take three or four capsules daily until you are entirely free, from pain. This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1696 the government of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its preparation and sale.

once. Well, this one does. That's why it bears the YALE trade-mark.

The "Autometric" Carburetor gives you:

- 1—Automatically the correct mixture for all speeds for any car.
- 2—More power and greater flexibility of control.
- 3—Up to 30% more mileage from your gasoline.
- 4—20% less gear shifting.
- 5—Engine vibration reduced to a minimum.

How?—Why?—

Because of these distinctive features:

IN the "Autometric" Carburetor the air enters the main passage at right angles to the gasoline nozzle.

The mixture is fed evenly to the cylinders as a hot, dry gas. Not as a partially atomized spray or mist.

When you step on the accelerator, the correct proportions of gasoline and air are admitted for whatever speed the engine is traveling.

The usual carburetor is subject to correct adjustment at but one speed. This is set for best results at intermediate or touring speeds. The result is either too lean or too rich a mixture at low and high speeds.

The "Autometric" Carburetor provides the correct mixture for all speeds.

No more fuel is burned than is actually necessary at whatever speed you are traveling.

This results:

- 1—More power and greater flexibility. Every ounce of driving power in your gasoline is fed to the cylinders.
- All cylinders get the correct mixture for all speeds from three miles an hour to maximum. A smooth, uninterrupted flow of power. You get none of the bucks or jerks resulting from an incorrect mixture for low speeds. Carbon deposit is reduced to a minimum, due to the fact that perfect combustion is obtained and no residue is left.

2—Economy of gasoline over other carburetors

Actual service tests and trials show the following economies over other carburetors.

- 4 to 20% at low speed.
- 10 to 30% at intermediate. (The speed you drive 95% of the time.)
- 10 to 20% at high.
- 10 to 15% at maximum.

3—20% less gear shifting

These are strong statements, especially coming from The Yale & Towne Manufacturing Company.

But the "Autometric" Carburetor has been subjected to the most rigid and exacting tests under actual service conditions. It has met them all. It can be adapted to any motor. It meets fully the Yale standards of perfection in workmanship and service. It is a tried and proved product worthy of bearing the signature of The Yale & Towne Manufacturing Company.

And it is sold on one month's approval.

You get the power when you need it—in the pinches—in traffic—on the hills.

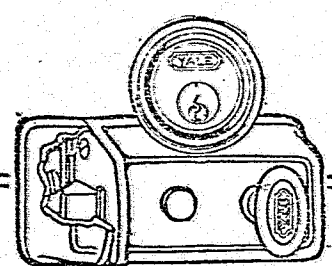

4—Range of operation

The "Autometric" is a carburetor of a thousand speeds—not just a touring range or a high speed range, but CORRECT at all ranges.

5—Less vibration

Most motors vibrate considerably at intermediate and high speeds due to unevenness of power in the cylinders due to poor carburetion. The Autometric Carburetor, through its even power flow, reduces vibration to a minimum and prevents undue wear and tear on your motor.

Step in and we will arrange to have your own garage man put an "Autometric" on your car on approval. Remember it's a YALE product.

Veterans Annual Meeting
The meeting of the Summer Soldiers Veteran Association at Buckfield on Aug. 27 was well attended and a very interesting occasion. About 30 veterans were present, most of whom responded briefly when their names were called. Solos by Barbara Bicker and J. E. Warren and five and drum selections by "Billy and Phon" enlivened the happy event. The tables were well filled.
At the business meeting W. S. Starbird of South Paris was chosen president and L. B. Heald, secretary and treasurer. It was voted to hold the next annual meeting at South Paris. The oldest veteran present was Charles H. Tripp of Mechanic Falls, who is 93 years of age; the youngest was E. G. Smith of Buckfield, who is 70 years old, and is also the son of a veteran.
W. S. Robinson made an eloquent address, mostly on our present national problems and the League of Nations.

GOOD ROADS MEETING

There was a large attendance of the municipal officers of the towns of Oxford county, lawyers, selectmen and citizens, from practically every town in the county, at the Municipal Hall, Rumford, Tuesday forenoon, August 26, when two members of the Maine State Highway Commission, Chairman Philip J. Deering and W. M. Ayer and the engineer for the commission, Paul D. Sargent, were present.

On September 8th, there will be a special State election to vote upon several amendments to the constitution. One of these reads as follows: "Shall the constitution be amended as proposed by a resolution of the Legislature providing for an increase in the amount of State bonds to be issued for the purpose of building State highways and intrastate, and interstate and international bridges?"

In order that the voters might carefully consider the merits of the amendment it was thought that the meeting should be held in order to obtain some tangible information as to where the extra road money is to be expended, if made available.

Judge A. E. Stearns presided over the meeting and explained why the meeting had been called. He said that the people of this county would like to learn of any plan for the early construction of roads in Oxford county.

Judge Stearns said that only a few miles of State road had been constructed in the county, one road of about seven miles from Bethel through Greenwood and Woodstock; four miles on another route through Oxford, but that this route was not of interest as an inter-county route; another section of road at Fryeburg of little value to Oxford county, excepting to get to the White Mountains. This latter road won't be of much use until it is continued to Norway.

"So," continued Judge Stearns, "of the State highway development of these three sections, only one is of importance, the Bethel to Woodstock portion. The road from Paris to Bryant Pond should be completed, and the road from Rumford on the south side of the river to the foot of the Cole hill, Bryant Pond, where it would unite with the end of the present constructed trunk road. We want before voting for the highway bond issue, to know something about the plans of the commission. Of course we want the highway constructed from Auburn to Rumford, but we want most a trunk road through Oxford county."

Mr. Deering said that the highway situation is a complex one. One has to go back in history before the Highway Commission was created. The State expended millions and got nothing, only patchwork, and out of the waste evolved the highway law and a small bond issue. The commission first laid out trunk lines where the majority of the people lived. They began the construction, under "equitable distribution," Mr. Deering said that he did not think much of this form of distribution, but as the law reads that way, the plan had to be carried out.

Mr. Deering admitted that Oxford County had suffered in the road line in the past few days, which he claimed was due to the war. He said the commission followed the instructions of the Federal government in building roads from a military and strategic point of view. 1350 miles of trunk highway were constructed by order of the Federal government, with the small bond issue. The Brunswick Portland road had to be completed by order of the Federal government, with the small bond issue.

Mr. Deering cited several foolish expenditures of road money according to the vote of the Legislature. One resolve was for $1,000 to construct a road which resolved as smooth as a floor; another for $3,000 to be expended on a piece of road where, when the engineer went to it, asked: "Where is this poor road?"

What we want, continued Mr. Deering, "is to finish the trunk lines and let the feeders come in time. The coming bond issue together with what the towns in the State. This will include the road from Auburn to Rumford that you people want."

Mr. Deering said that the construction of this road would commence next year, from the Auburn end. Hon. Alton C. Wheeler of South Paris asked Mr. Deering about the Letter S road between Welchville and Norway, which he thought is the worst in Oxford county. Mr. Deering said that he agreed that it would be constructed. Hon. F. F. Deering of Buckfield asked Mr. Deering if the primary plan of the commission to construct the road from Auburn to Rumford by the way of Turner, Bretton's Mills and Canton would stand. He said that Franklin County people were trying to get the route changed. Mr. Deering said that the route as laid out would stand.

Hon. George A. Hutchins asked Mr. Deering if there had been additions to the trunk line, as primarily laid out. Mr. Deering replied that there had been one, the Lewiston to Brunswick road, where the commission had decided that not a dollar of State aid money would ever be expended and the State Highway Commission had to do it.

Mr. Hutchins said that roads in Oxford county had been built not for the convenience of the people of the county, but for the hotels and White Mountain resorts. Mr. Deering replied that the roads had been built for the benefit of the people of the entire state, an not for any one section.

Several other questions were asked Mr. Deering which he answered in an amiable manner. Not one promise, outside of the road from Auburn to Rumford, could be extracted from him and therefore the voters of Oxford county are about as qualified to vote on the bond matter as they were before the meeting.

LOCKE'S MILLS

Mrs. Marshall of Auburn is visiting her sister, Mrs. L. P. Bryant. William Smith of New York is stopping with his family at Walter Swift's. Mrs. Lester Tabbets is receiving a visit from her sister and husband from Auburn.

Mrs. Lydia Varney and Lester Varney of Buckfield were Sunday guests of Mrs. W. H. Crockett.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Whitman and Lula Swan of Norway visited with their brother, Will Swan over the week end.

Marian Swift of Lewiston was a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Swift the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Lapham and Gwendolyn Bartlett were in Lewiston, Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Bartlett is visiting relatives at Rumford.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tabbets were in Auburn and Minot over the week end.

GREGG WILL CONTESTED

At the session of Probate court, held in the Supreme court room, Rumford, Aug. 26, the will of William Gregg, late of Andover, was duly proved by witnesses Charles A. Andrews, F. S. Smith and Rebecca A. Smith, all of Andover. The proof of will prob form. Judge Addison E. Herriek allowed the will, and the appeal was taken to the next term of Supreme Judicial court.

Special administrators will probably be appointed to look after the immediate interests of the estate, pending the hearing on the will.

Mr. Gregg left the bulk of his property to his two sisters, one of them, Frances A. Gregg, being named as executrix. Of the property, which has not been wholly appraised, $2,500 was left to Mrs. Lena Graves, Mr. Gregg's housekeeper, and $300 to John Wyman, lately returned from the service.

Attorneys Hutchins & Parker represent the proponents of the will and Hon. Alton C. Wheeler and Judge A. E. Stearns represent the two daughters, Hortense and Marjorie. They desire to break the will and receive all the property. There was no contest Tuesday.

THE FARMER AND THE SPUDS

A few years ago an Alabama farmer had 1,200 bushels of sweet potatoes to sell and a southern commission house offered him half a cent a pound for them. This was the equivalent of the price offered per bushel. At the time this offer was made sweet potatoes of an inferior grade were selling in the stores in northern states at five and six cents a pound. Investigation showed that there was not one unreasonably profit out of the difference between the consumer's and the producer's prices. But there were altogether too many people getting some profit out of each potato. There were too many middlemen. The cost of transportation was, naturally, part of the price. Railroads were privately owned then and freight rates were lower than they are now, but this was not enough to bring the cost of the consumer down to the proper figure. Some kind of organization was needed to eliminate a number of the leakages, and to get the product moved to the consumer by a more direct route—in short, to remove some of the middlemen. It is still more necessary now.

Getting down to the root of things, it seems logical that if a man grows a vegetable in Alabama, and a man in Maine eats it, that at least four people should be paid something—the man who grows it, the man who transported it, the commission man who distributed it, and the retailer who sold it to the consumer. There is no excuse for other middlemen, and this limited number of hand-ers is not sufficient to explain the great disparity between the price received by the grower and that paid by the consumer.

It is evident that too many people who don't grow, or transport, or even retail foodstuffs have a voice in arguing what the price is to be—and get paid part of that price for arguing about it.

This sort of thing is unwarranted and needs changing. But how are we going to do it?

Use Maine grown foods as much as possible; that will help some.

FRYEBURG

Edwin K. Welch, the new headmaster of Fryeburg Academy, is among the recent guests at Ye Inn. It is reported that there will be a large attendance at this school when the term opens Sept. 23.

Charles G. Willard of Brockton, Mass., has joined his wife in Fryeburg. Mrs. Willard has been spending several weeks in town. They were both former teachers in Fryeburg Academy.

A party of friends including George W. Weston, John F. Weston, Charles E. Jones of East Orange, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Willard of Brockton, Mass., Mrs. W. Post and other friends had a "sunset tea" at Carter's Hill at East Fryeburg on Sunday.

Lieu. B. O. Warren and Mrs. Warren, who have been spending their vacation in Fryeburg have now gone to Rochester, N. Y. having been called there by illness of her mother, Mrs. Hammond.

The mid-summer ball at the K. of P. hall was well attended. Shaw's orchestra furnished music. Dr. and Mrs. William Mackey of Boston were guests at the Towle homestead recently.

Mrs. Alvin D. Merrill, a former teacher of English in Fryeburg Academy, has recently given interesting addresses in behalf of the school at East Fryeburg and before the Fryeburg grange at Fryeburg Center.

B. T. Newman spent Sunday with his wife at Long Island.

W. R. Tarbox and wife left Wednesday for Columbia, Ohio, to attend the National Convention G. E. and all other organizations. Mrs. Tarbox is National Counselor of the Ladies' G. A. I. R., Indiana and Washington before returning to Maine.

Miss Rogers from Cambridge was a guest of relatives in town last week. R. Tarbox. She is a secretary at Harvard college.

Kathleen Brackett and Mrs. Carrie Woodman were home last week to attend the funeral of Joseph Johnson.

Joseph Johnson, a veteran of the Civil War and one of our highly esteemed citizens, died very suddenly last Thursday. Mr. Johnson, with his daughter, Mrs. Lida Keefe and her three-year-old daughter were driving on Main street by the pond in between two autos, one driven by strangers and one owned and driven by Leon Charles. The horse became frightened, jumped, throwing all the occupants out.

At first it was not thought that any of them were injured, but later Mr. Johnson developed serious symptoms and a trained nurse was sent for. He passed away the next afternoon.

The funeral was Sunday. Rev. Mr. Achenback and the Masons of Fryeburg, Mr. Johnson was a kind husband and father. He leaves besides his wife, three daughters and one son. He was very fond of his children's grandchildren, everything possible to alleviate his suffering. He will be greatly missed and his sudden death was a shock to the village.

PRIZE OFFER

WHAT IS MUSIC?

Fred Sanborn has always told me I did not know how to write an ad, so I am not going to try, but am going to give a prize instead.

I will venture to say that over 100 of my gracious patrons have entered my shop, glanced at the restful oil paintings and steel engraving, read a few of the motto cards in the show cases, settled themselves comfortably in the big green porch chair, heard one or two records and then made a remark something like this:—"I just love music, I don't believe anybody in the world loves music as much as I do." Now these same people will buy music all the way from "Cy's been drinkin' beer" to "The Holy City," and from "Hail Hail the Gang's All Here" to "Shepherd Show Me How to Go" and everyone of these things are what each calls music and pays his good money for—Which one is right? Can all be right or are all wrong?

I used to think I knew something about music. Just last spring one of my young friends about to graduate from high school came for me to give some suggestions about her essay on music. I gave her the advantage of my knowledge and looked up a lot of references for her, but horrors! when she showed the product to her teacher it wouldn't do at all—"Music originated in China and was written in a circle." Big jolt. So you see I am more willing to learn what music is. So I am going to offer a prize of a solid gold 14 karat ring with a Maine gem in it worth at least $10, (let Bob Bickford, the Maine gem king, be the judge of value) for the best letter of about 100 words, telling what real music is. I shall judge and claim the right to publish the prize letter. Of course this won't agree with anybody else's idea—maybe I shall give two rings or three. The contest is open to anyone, all ages, one to infinity; all races, Yanks, Huns, Mongolian or Hottentot, whether your country is signatory to the League of Nations or not. Christmas is the time limit to allow for letters from China.

I will give a few hints—What seems to be music to one does not to another. For instance, I remember when my sister used to live upstairs in the house where the editor of this paper lived. Fred told her that if she wouldn't play and sing when he was in the house that he would give her all the music he could lay his hands on. I don't believe there was anything personal to this. To Fred the sound of the printing press, the purr of a fish reel or music. Others like a piano and singing. Sometimes they don't want to hear this, what pleases them at one time does not at another. As musical instruments Daniel mentions the "cornet," flute, harp, saebut, psalter, dulcimer and all kinds of music," but he says nothing about the piano, saxophone, banjo, guitar, mandolin, Victrola, or Grafonola. To various persons various sounds are considered music. For example:—The wind in the pine trees, the lapping of the waves on the sand, the moving machine in the wheat field, (whether it yields two or 200 bushels to the acre), the tinkle of a mountain stream, the patter of rain on an open roof, the rustle of beech leaves in the winter, the chug of a steam engine, the sound of a water fall, the click-clack of the train on the rails, the rattle of the cicada, the buzz of the humming bird, the hum of the bee, the purr of a cat, the creak of a whiffle tree, the sound of the ax in the woods, the sound which ten men when drunk from a saucer. To me after working a hand pump 'an fatigue' a wind mill has made music. Just last week a friend on entering my store and noticing the files on the outside of the door awaiting admittance remarked that a much earlier occupant of the store said: (Mrs. Goodenow, who kept a millinery store here) "not to kill the flies for she liked the sound of their wings." There are so-called singing benches at different parts of the world's sea coasts. There is the singing flame and in Job it tells about "when the morning stars sang together. So you see opinions differ and I have only touched a few of the opinions of what music is. Now WHAT IS MUSIC? Send in your 100 word answer and get a prize. This letter should be original, not based on dictionary or encyclopedia and evolved from your inner consciousness. The reason I give a good ring with a Maine gem is that there will be no dispute what that is, while there might be a difference of opinion about anything musical. Maybe the next prize will be music to decide what a gem is. This advertisement is not copyrighted and may be copied without royalty by New York, Washington or California papers.

Bolster's Mills 10; Ward 8 Tigers 7

Ward 8 Tigers featuring their second string pitchers went down to defeat at Bolster's Mills Saturday with Bolster's Mills swinging the bat stick. Bolster's Mills from Harrison twirled for the visitors and held the furious Tigers to five singles and a double. Bolster's Mills ripped four singles and a double from Arthur Descoiteau in less than three innings, but Phil Smith played to better luck as only six safeties in as many innings were caged off his delivery. The Tigers errors although not numerous were costly. A bad tiger break in the first two innings tolled the ball on any chances to win. Bolster's Mills made a long jump during this "passed ball" carnival and held the advantage to the end.

The first act opened with the "Mills" boys and Arthur Descoiteau was sent in the box to twirl in place of Freddy LaFrance. Three passes, a hit and Sanderson's double into deep left cleaned the bases, chalking up 4 runs in almost as many minutes. Singles by Haggerty and Mills, a double by Scotty Palmer, and Abe Klein's error with Skillings' safety landed three more tallies. At this point with the visitors driving the car to suit their convenience, Phil Smith was sent in to the box from right field and Descoiteau took that position. Smith checked the race being able to pass over state. Bolster's Mills could not easily solve.

"Doc" White landed the only run for his outfit in the fourth. He singled but a low throw was made to catch him at first, he captured second on this error, went third on a passed ball and scored when Sanderson's infield grounder was badly handled. This run made controversy later in the game, but according to the writer the facts recorded are correct, and the player and team should have the score. Two runs in the eighth brought about with a "free walk," Mills hit and "Scotty's" poor throw to first closed the visitors score making.

The Tigers runs came in small bunches. Foss picked the first tally with a single, a passed ball wild pitch and a Descoiteau's sacrifice. They found another in the third inning when Pete Boulier walked after getting hit by Sanderson, found second on passed ball, and crossed when Abe drove a clean two sacker into left, and caught at third trying to stretch over another base. Scotty Palmer found a lone run in the sixth brought on by a single into center, two passed balls and Eugene Descoiteau sacrifice. Freddy LaFrance, who had replaced Bedard in left field captured a score in the seventh on Sanderson's mix-up near first, a stolen base, Foss sacrifice and a pitchers bad throw. Abe Klein was passed and followed the fore going plays to the home plate for the second crossing. Their last brace of runs came in eighth when Gene Descoiteau hit for two sacks and LaFrance singles. Two errors by T. Culbert and Skillings muffed of Pete Bouliers fly did the trick.

The last few innings were played in a drizzle which account for several misplays and fumble batting. The score:

WOODSTOCK ATHLETIC CLUB 3; Ward 8 Tigers 2

Ward 8 Tigers lost the rubber game to the Woodstock Athletic Club in a hot contest at Ward 8 Park, Norway, Monday afternoon. Ted Chase, the visiting twirler was a puzzle, and the heavy slug ging up country boys beat their way through LaFrance delivery for a hard earned conclusion. The contest brought out many exciting situations and the officials were up against several close decisions at critical periods. The attendance was large.

The Athletics opened the game with a flourish and capped a run. L. Hathaway gained first on Klein's poor throw to that base, stole second went third when L. A. Hathaway sacrificed and crossed home. Chase, Fred, Hyman, singled. Another score was put across in the third by L. A. Hathaway on his hit, an error at first and Fred Farnum's single into left. They barely missed another in the fifth when Perham hit safely to Center field and endeavored to cross the pan when Fred Farnum slashed a two bagger into the left field knoll. Perham was nabbed at the plate. R. K. Hathaway hooked the last run in the ninth on a drive into right along the base line, and reach third before the ball was fielded in. He crossed on Crooker's grounder to Descoiteau, which was fielded to the plate one lap behind the runner.

Nothing sure doing for the tigers until the fourth session although an offering during the second was not accepted. The home run was made by Scotty Palmer, who drove a grounder through H. Farnum at short, gained second on a wild throw to second, then scored when McKay hit safely into center. An opening in the seventh which might have created business was closed in quick order. With three bases occupied and nobody gone the Tigers failed to make good and push a runner across. Chase was dragged from this hole when Foss, fly was strangled by R. K. Hathaway, and J. Boulier died at second on the throw in. Descoiteau fanned and the golden opportunity to even things floated down stream. The score:

An Internal Treatment For Piles (Hemorrhoids)

Gives absolute relief from all pain and suffering. Has never failed. Guaranteed.

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless and that there was no remedy for their case.

Just read what Mr. F. M. Smith of 2313 Broadway, Lorain, Ohio, says:

"I am glad to recommend Miro Remedy for Piles. There is no equal to it. I suffered for 18 years and tried everything that was recommended. I doctored for years and was a constant sufferer with bleeding piles. I took two bottles of Miro and was entirely cured. Any sufferer using it will never regret it. All pharmacists dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it is worth the little trouble to obtain to be rid of piles forever."

IMPORTANT—What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.
